

CMSC6950 Project presentations marking scheme

Presentations should be roughly 25 minutes or less. Evaluation of the presentations is two-fold.

First, the group as a whole is assessed on how clearly project results are presented and on how the process of collaboration functioned. The audience must come away with a good idea of what the results of the project are and on how the team members worked together to achieve those goals.

List of team members:

Overall clarity and description of achievements (10)

Functioning of collaboration (10)

Second, each team members must clearly describe within about 3 minutes what he or she contributed to the project, the technical details of those contributions, and any difficulties encountered. Each person should expect to answer questions pertaining to his or her work.

Contribution to team – did the team member contribute sufficiently?

Clarity – speaking clearly, deportment, flow of ideas, use of time

Description of methods – are the important technical details explained?

Answering questions – how well are questions answered?

Name	Contrib. (10)	Clarity (10)	Description (10)	Answers (10)
